Comment_description: While I applaud the use of renewable power and make a voluntary contribution to its use on my electric bill, I am concerned that it takes an outside corporation to provide this energy to Idaho Power. My concern that it is an unnecessary layer of administration. I did not intend to contribute money voluntarily or otherwise so Idaho Power could merely buy this type of energy produced in Idaho, from another entity. It seems to me they should be more than capable and involved in developing this themselves.
