

To The Public Utilities Commission

Why should the general public pay part or all of Idaho Power's income taxes. Should not their stockholders have to pay some of it. No one pays my income taxes, no one pays my children's income tax.

Why should the public be expected to pay to build a power plant that will benefit Idaho Power, as they will sell power, make money, make more dividends for share holders. I thought most companies were responsible for building a business that will make them more money.

I don't mind paying a fair share but to pay for income tax and to build a business that will make the company more money is wrong as far as I can see.

Comment description: Idaho Power is requesting a rate increase, not only to ensure profitability, but to maintain their facilities (Bennett Mountain).

Please note that I oppose any rate increase whatsoever at this.

My reasons being...

I have had a steady increase in my power bill for years and years, which have far exceeded any increase to my useable income.

I feel that large corporations should bear some of the burden during a slow economy, for example, there profits and bonuses should reflect downturn.

- I can not get a pay increase from my employer, due to Idaho Powers rate increases. -

As far as the Bennett project and other maintenance projects, the company should consume those costs, and pay back the loan just like the rest of us.

- I can not bill MY employer for my new alarm clock and the bedding that I use in the daily operation of going to work for him. -

Idaho Power should look internally at its operations in order to grow and maintain itself.
