Comment_description: "Jan B. Packwood, IdaCorp president and chief executive officer, said Idaho Power's performance should be even better this year - if state regulators approve the company's request for a rate increase."

Enough of the Rate increases, I cant afford to heat my house as it is. My electric bill was over $200 last month, in a small condo. How good do they want their fiscal performance to be? As good as Exxon is my guess!

Comment_description: We finished building a house in Prairie this summer; our house has an extensive automation (expensive) system. We have been told by our electrician that we will need to install a line conditioner to protect the system because our power is "dirty." We have already had problems with power "blips" causing the systems to reset several times in the space of a few minutes, this has also caused problems in the lighting system, ie lights coming on randomly or shutting off at odd times. We have been told that the power grid up here has not been updated since it was first installed several decades ago. We feel strongly that Idaho Power should not have a rate increase, at least from residents of Prairie, until we have reliable modern power. Thank you.
