Comment_description: I don't think Idaho Power needs another rate increase. With all the moisture we are getting this year they will save a lot of money running the hydro electric dams and won't have to use so much of the natural gas plants. I wish I could just ask the company I work for that I need a pay increase to cover my cost of living as it has more than tripled in the last five years do to rate increases from Idaho power and Natural gas companies, unfortunately my company would tell me to stick it. What you and Idaho power need to realize is you are pricing people right out of the utility market and out of there homes.

I think with all the moisture we are getting that we should see our power bill come down now that they won't have to use so much natural gas and they are going to save a lot of money with huge profits which they had there last quarter. So I beleive the commission should deny Idaho powers rate increase and give us back some price breaks.
