COMES NOW, Exergy Development Group of Idaho LLC ("Exergy") by and through its attorney of record, Peter J. Richardson, and pursuant to Rule 331 of the Commission's Rules of Procedure and respectfully lodges its Petition for Reconsideration of Order No. 30480, the final order in the above captioned docket.

Exergy noted in its Supplemental Comments filed in this docket that in its currently pending general rate case, IPC-E-07-08, Idaho Power uses a natural gas forecast for purposes of setting its retail rates that is different from, and much higher than the natural gas forecast used in this case for setting its avoided cost rates. Exergy argued that Idaho Power should be required to use the natural gas forecast from its general rate case for setting its avoided cost rates as well as for setting its retail rates.

Although in its Order the Commission made a passing reference to Exergy's argument regarding the use of inconsistent gas forecasts in the two concurrent dockets involving the same utility, the Commission never addressed the question of whether and why such inconsistent use of natural gas forecasts is fair, just and reasonable.

Exergy seeks reconsideration of the Commission's decision in order to establish that such an inconsistent use of natural gas forecasts is result driven, inherently arbitrary and capricious and hence contrary to law.

Exergy proposes that reconsideration be conducted through briefs and/or written comments.

Respectfully submitted this 18th day of January 2008.
