Regarding Comments of conservation surcharge,

I have been very disappointed in how this information was addressed. As I have looked into the programs that the Idaho Power Co."provide" I feel Idaho Power only reaps from the programs. I signed up for the AC program. They gave me a AC cool credit of $7.00 for three months a total of $ 21.00. But, I paid $ 28.32 for the program. It looks like I paid for my part of the program in full plus some. That doesn't count for all those that didn't sign up, but are paying for it anyway.

It looks to me that all of these programs (15) are just more money makers for Idaho Power, to make it seem that we are getting a good deal??

I hope the PUC will see that these programs aren't saving the customers money, it is costing them. I hope you will see to discontinue and eliminate the "Surcharge"

Thank You,

I'm asking the P.U.C deny Id Power the 50.7 million they say they spent on programs they devised in 08 & 09. This surcharge caused our power bills to sky rocket.

I am a senior and can't afford to run my furnace or air conditioner but very minimal, because of Id Power high rates.

their employees receive huge salaries & benefits and they take right out of the users pockets and the P.U.C. allows it.

I do not believe that enough benefit is gained from the money collected. The program idea is okay. However those that need it do not use it. Bottom line: Electric bills are high enough without this fee.

Please describe your comment briefly:

The only conservation program I am aware of from Idaho Power is the $10 monthly rebate that would allow Idaho Power to turn off my AC unit in the summer during high demand times. There are a few problems with this 'conservation' program. First, I am being bribed to participate in the program with my own money (the conservation surcharge collected by Idaho Power). Second, we already rarely use our AC. Third, since we rarely use our AC there is no additional conservation from this plan. The surcharge is simple money the power company is taking from me that keeps me from making other energy conservation improvements like a new front door that doesn't leak or additional insulation in the attic. I would rather have the surcharge eliminated entirely so I can use the money for our house.

Thank you.
