Please describe your comment briefly:

I am a senior citizen, living alone, with an income of $819 monthly. When I pay my bills (the Idaho Power bill is $238) I have $139 left. I do not feel that it is my responsibility to contribute to the retirement fund of IP employees or the companies investments. I understand that we MIGHT get a refund at the end of the year but in the mean time???? The only way I can reduce my expenses would be to get rid of the two cats I rescued from being put to sleep five years ago. (I have no intentions of doing this.)

There were no contributions from outside sources when I retired.
