Please describe your comment briefly:

The rate request based on an agreement with Idaho Power and Dynamis Energy LLC seems high. It is an increase of almost 50% which is higher than any other that I can find.

Please deny this unusually high rate increase especially in this economy at this time when so many have lost their jobs and homes.

Thank you for your kind consideration.

Please note in the following article (http://www.seco.cpa.state.tx.us/re biomass-urban.htm) the facility was being paid for by private investors. Why is Idaho Power being allowed to make us indentured servants to this project? Who is going to reap the financial benefits of the reduced costs to the landfill? Will the indentured servants get a kick-back on their power bills?

Breaking Ground: Killeen Supports Emissions-Free Waste Management

In June 2008, the City of Killeen donated 40 acres of land to Zero-emissions Energy Recycling Oxidation Systems (ZEROS) to build a zero waste emissions-free power plant near the Williamson County landfill.

The plant, designed at Texas A&M University, will use an oxygenated system to convert as much as 300,000 tons of garbage annually into electricity with zero emissions. ZEROS has agreed to sell byproducts such as diesel fuel, gasoline and clean water back to the city at a reduced rate.

The estimated cost of $250 million to $300 million will be provided by private investors. The plant is expected to create 200 jobs in Killeen while reducing the city's landfill waste treatment costs from $20 to $24 per ton to $10 per ton. The processing plant could go on-line in about three years.

This agreement should not be allowed because of the high cost for the power that will be generated. It is twice the rate of any rate that we are paying now and is ridiculous to even be allowed.
