Sirs,
I live in rural Butte County. People here are struggling, economically. Since RMP/ Utah Power became Pacificorp/ Warren Buffet our services have gone downhill, and prices have risen (BPA discount). Our infrastructure is eroding and these folks are only profit motivated. The local employees are great, but there hands are tied. How come in Arco ID, we had no power for 3 days in spring 2004? In February for hecks sake. As a company doing business in Idaho, these folks do a very poor job. I have to call Portland to listen to a recording in order to even communicate.
If Warren Buffet isn't making enough money, then he shouldn't look to rural Idahoans to make up the difference.

This comment concerns the rate increase that R.M.P. is again seeking. I have commented before about the cost of this companies power. I was told that they try to be competitive. I am now paying in excess of ten cents per kilowatt hr. Idaho Falls power is charging five cents per kilowatt hr. Now they want to raise it another 8 percent for residential ,I do not believe that this is trying to be competitive.

Rocky Mt Power's request for a fourteen percent increase seems excessive. They received an increase 2 yrs ago and said they would try to bring back the BPA credit. They received their increase and the credit was never reinstated. In these times they need to do with what they have rather than say poor me. Thank you.

Please describe your comment briefly:

I heard on the news this morning that Rocky Mountain Power is trying to pass a 14% rate increase with the Idaho Public Utility Commission. We were also told that the IPUC wants the public's opinion on the matter. I do not think that Rocky Mountain Power should be allowed to raise their rates. We are already paying more for power than neighboring power companies, such as Idaho Falls Power. Raising rates is just going to hurt Idahoan families. Our families and businesses cannot afford an increase. There already many who are already having a hard time paying their power bills along with other necessary bills such as gas and insurance payments; many are going without needed items such as food and clothing to provide these basic needs in a tough economy. I know families who moved their kids into the same room so they did not have to heat an extra bedroom; they simply had to come up with more ways to cut costs in order to make ends meet. The answer to Rocky Mountain Power's need for more money to build new infrastructure is not to hand them more money but to for them become more efficient and be creative in the way they cut costs, just like many Idahoan families have to do.

Sincerely,

Amanda Erickson

Regarding the proposed rate hike by rocky mountain power. It seems to me that this would be at least the 2nd such rate hike in the last 5 years. When I moved to Idaho in 2005 my summer power bill was about $40.00 now it is around $75.00. I understand the cost of doing business, but they actually charge their customers more money for using renewable energy scources, like their blue sky campaign. If i recall correctly they asked for and got a 12% increase last year or the year before and now they want another 13 to 14% increase??
I know Mr. Warren Buffet wants Berksrie Hathaway to post a profit this year since he is the major Share holder in Mid America Energy Holdings corp which owns Pacific corp/pacific power/rockymountain power. I just wish he would do it without holding up the american public. I you choose to approve this rate increase it should be with a 5 moritorium on any further increases and a cap on what those future increases should look like.

Please disapprove the rate increase requested by the power company. They had a raise two years ago and the 14% they want now is extreme considering the state of the economy. We have the temperatures in our bedrooms at 55 degrees and any unoccupied rooms, the heat is turned off. We have cut back as much as possible. I think the raise is to much all at once. We are still realing from the down turn in the economy and we're on a limited budget with no raises possible.

This is not the time to give RM Power customers a 15% rate increase (I do time-of-day). RM Power should have to tighten its belt just like everyone else is doing in this recession. At my job I won't receive a raise again this year. My health insurance will go up. We may be cut on hours. RM Power employees can take a little hit just like the rest of us. As a widow on a limited budget, I will have a very difficult time swallowing this rate increase. Please don't allow it!

I particularly resent the fact that you would penalize those of us who make a genuine effort to be conservative in our use of energy by using the time-of-day plan. As I am led to believe by the newspaper article we get the biggest rate hike of anyone. It is hard enough at the present time to even contemplate such a large rate hike and I am certainly not in favor of it.

June 2, 2010--According to today's Post Register, Rocky Mountain Power has requested a substantial rate increase. We want to state our opposition to this increase. We are a semi-retired couple in our 70's. We both have to work part-time in order to make ends meet. We participate in the Rocky Mountain Power Time of Day program in order to save money. According to the article in the paper, the rate requested for subscribers to Time of Day is 15.7%, accompanied by an 8% increase for standard residential rates. We try very hard to conserve electricity in order to keep the bill down, but we can't conserve enough to absorb this rate increase. Rocky Mountain Power already charges added fees such as Customer Efficiency Services and Rigby Franchise Tax, in addition to the basic rates. As senior citizens on a fixed income, we can't afford this increase. Please consider us when you make this decision. Thank you.

Rocky Mountain Power has applied to the Public Utilities Commission for a very large rate increase. As a Rocky Mountain Power user, it's my belief that, unless the company is going to go bankrupt without the increase, no increase should be granted until such time as the economy improves (personal income improves) and only granted then if there is truly a legitimate need. Thank you for your consideration.

Concerning the 14% rate increase. Last time they wanted a rate increase it was because people were not using enough power this time we are using 26% more and they still want a rate increase. It makes no sense to keep cutting back when we keep getting increases all the time. RMP needs to suffer through things like the rest of us and then ask for an increase when the economy is a little better. Please don't allow this to happen. Thank You

In regard to RMP's request for an 18% rate increase, with residential customers increasing 8%. Considering that we are in a period of economic growth whose anemic figures are not strong enough to sustain an economic recovery in this country, I find this request to be somewhat ludicrous. In my own particular case this will raise my electric bill by 21.00 a month. This is on top of a 68.00 a month increase in my level pay amount which was unsupported by my usage. This will only further retard economic growth at a time when Idaho is already struggling to find employers willing to hire. I would love to see this increase denied in it's entirety.
