You gave no reason why you wanted a raise/change more. The higher costs come with water heater, heat, conditioning. I don't use air conditioner & I don't use the water heat 24-7. I am in low income housing & I look for every opportunity to cut costs. Food & Basic Commodities ~~are~~ are expensive more than it ever has been. Gas has increased too. We simply, some do, & some will have to if this is an increase in cost keep cutting costs simply to live. Not everyone has family who can help, so if you aren't in need or starving then don't complain or raise the cost. Thanks for your willingness to read this.

P.S I use a electric saving heater & cut costs & heats better than the installed heater.

To whom it may concern;
I would like to protest the raise that the power company is asking for. They have received recent raises in the past.

I live on an fixed income and I didn't get a raise last year because of the economy why should they for the same reason. I will not receive one this year also.

I think you are charging enough all ready. I cant see paying any more as Im 81 and my pay checks just cover my living man I cant afford any more.

I THINK THAT YOU CHARGE ENOUGH
NOW TO US SENIORS THAT ONLY LIVE ON OUR SS. WE CAN HARDLY
MAKE IT NOW. WE HAVE TO DO
WITHOUT SOME OF OUR MEDICINE
BECAUSE OF THE HIGH PRICES OF GAS + ELECTRICITY.
PLEASE DON'T MAKE IT ANY HIGHER.
BE SIDES YOU JUST RAISED IT IN JAN-11

Please describe your comment briefly:

As I understand it, Rocky Mountain Power is asking for another rate increase. Now, I may be wrong, but seems to me that they asked for a rate increase last year. And now another one. As senior citizens on a fixed income, we have to watch our expenses all the time. And when an utility gets a rate increase, that means, we have to cut some place and do without. Yes, we understand that prices are going up. And our income and many others who have fixed incomes, have not seen our incomes go up at all. When Rocky Mountain Power suppliers prices go down, we don't see a rate decrease. More than likely we see a rate increase. At this present time, due to the economy, we like to see the PUC deny the rate increase for Rocky Mountain Power. Thank you for watching out for the citizens of Idaho.
