Please describe your comment briefly:

I just want to let Avista know how appalling I think it is for a large company that already makes so much money to even consider raising their rates. Times are hard now and especially for Sr. Citizens who haven't had an increase in their SS in 2 years! There are also others who no longer have a job and barely feeding their family. And the job market nor the economy is looking any better. Matter of fact continues to get worse every day! Gas to just get to work if you're lucky enough to have a job is a luxury anymore!

Please reconsider what you are about to do! Avista should tighten up their belts and do a little sacrificing as the American people are doing on a daily basis!
