Comment_description: Having skimmed through the case file for this case, it is apparent that the intention is to keep up with the rising supply and wholesale costs of products resold to customers. While I do not want to see an increase in my winter heating costs, I also do not want to see my service suffer from lack of funds to supply product.

I am in favor of the price increase IF Intermountain Gas Company truly requires the increase to cover their operating and wholesale costs.

Comment_description: Please consider not allowing a rate hike that this company is asking for. We are all strapped enough at this time with high gas prices that we have to pay to keep our cars running so we can go to work which has already filtered down to all our food, services and etc.. When times are tight in our household we have to tighten our belt and give up some of our entertainment and things we like to do. We were not able to go camping, to the fair, to visit our 96 year old grandmother in southern Utah that is in failing health at this time, or do anything this last labor day weekend because we could not afford the gas to go anywhere. The gas company should have to do the same, SACRIFICE and be CONSERVATIVE, not keep sticking their hands deeper into our pockets. I see them coming to read my meter in these brand new fancy ford pickups that we, in our financially struggling household certainly could not afford to drive! If they are having financial difficulties then they can make some cut backs and sacrifices (like driving their trucks a year or two longer without getting new ones) or (getting some more economical vehicles that get better gas mileage than a big fancy pickup!) We have to make the sacrifices and enough is enough !!! We cannot keep getting taxed and rate hiked by everyone anymore, it is going to put people in financial ruin if it keeps up. Stop these unnessessary rate hikes here and now and make these big companies be accountable and make some changes and "live within their means" just like we have to !!!
Thanks you for listening to us, the comsumers...JoAnne Haws
