APPLICATION FOR CERTIFICATION

IDAHO PUBLIC
UTILITIES COMMISSION

New local telecommunications providers for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity to provide basic local exchange service in Idaho must submit the following information:

122-T-04-01

I. PROPOSED SERVICES

A narrative description of the telecommunication services provided by the Applicant and the geographic area and market to be served by the company. Other items of interest and whether the company is a facilities-based provider or a reseller, or some combination thereof; what general plans the company has to build facilities in the future; to which markets the provider will appeal; how the provider will market its products; whether the company currently provides or has a history of providing other services in Idaho; how the corporate family is structured.

IDACOMM, INC. ("Applicant"), hereby respectfully submits this Application to the Idaho Public Utilities Commission (the "Commission") for a Certificate to provide local exchange services and emerging telecommunications services ("Telecommunication Services") throughout the State of Idaho on a facility based and a resold basis.

Applicant requests permission to provide the following Telecommunications Services: A variety of high speed private line and dedicated transport services initially as well as switched local exchange and local access services, including advanced features such as voice mail and caller identification in the State of Idaho. Applicant will provide these services through owned facilities and facilities to be leased from other CLEC's or Qwest, Inc. ("Qwest") utilized for resale.

Applicant seeks certification to provide Telecommunication Services for the geographic area, which exactly follows the geographic boundaries of the State of Idaho.

Applicant may replace certain leased facilities with its own facilities over time and may modify its network to accommodate additional service offerings.

Applicant will invest in and deploy its own state-of-the-art fiber optic network and equipment within certain communities in the State of Idaho and the ILECs' central offices, using in part, its own facilities and in part, the facilities of other carriers to provide services.

Applicant seeks to provide a variety of high speed private line and dedicated transport services initially as well as switched local exchange and local access services, throughout the state of Idaho where Qwest provides service.

Applicant proposes to offer the following services as defined and subject to any form of industry-wide relaxed regulatory treatment:

High-speed data transport

Advanced features

Premium Services

InterLATA toll services

IntraLATA toll services

Switched Access services

Private Line services

Applicant's initial focus will be a high-speed data product targeted toward small and medium size businesses. After leading with data transport products, Applicant will bundle data with voice services, including switched access and long distance. As the Internet becomes a more ubiquitous part of our daily lifestyle, and applications continue to demand more bandwidth, Applicant will market its services to the residential community as well. Because of the relative density of small and medium sized businesses in larger communities, Applicant will focus its initial efforts on population centers of 100,000 and above. If the economics warrant it, Applicant will move into smaller communities as well.

To support its service offerings of high-speed data transfer, Applicant's initial network configuration will involve the use of newly constructed state-of-the-art fiber optic network in combination with Qwest's unbundled local loops which will connect equipment located at Applicant's end-user locations to Applicant's equipment located at Qwest's Central Offices. Applicant will eventually offer switched voice services on either a resold basis using Qwest's finished services, or through the use of Applicant's facilities, or through a combination of unbundled elements leased from Qwest and Applicant's facilities.

Access to ordinary intralata and interlata message toll calling, operator services, directory assistance, directory listings and emergency services will all be negotiated with Qwest in the Interconnection Agreement with Qwest. Applicant will initially negotiate with Qwest to provide these services. In the future, depending on pricing structure, Applicant may elect to bring some or all of those functions in-house, or sub-contract to other providers of same.

The information contained in this Application and the Exhibits attached hereto fully describe Applicant's business and its ability to provide consumers and businesses within and throughout the State of Idaho with a viable and economical alternative for the satisfaction of their telecommunications services needs. Applicant submits these reasons in support of its belief that the public interest would be served by the approval of this Application.

Primarily, Applicant intends to offer businesses of the State of Idaho high-speed data transfer services, local dial tone and a variety of other telecommunications services. This will promote a competitive telecommunications marketplace while protecting and maintaining the wide availability of high-quality telecommunications services. Approval of this Application will enhance free market competition within the telecommunications industry by providing Idaho businesses with increased customer choices and decreased customer rates. Applicant's entry into Idaho's local exchange market will also increase the utility of the Internet and of private data networks by substantially increasing the speed of data transfer in the local loop.

As Applicant expects its services to be priced attractively, end users may realize cost savings over presently available services. In addition, because Applicant will employ state-of-the-art facilities and technology, end users can expect new products not previously available and the highest quality services from Applicant.

Competition for local exchange service will also stimulate additional demand for the service of all carriers, including incumbent LECs. Thus, in a competitive market, there will be increased potential for all LECs to generate higher revenues. Additionally, in a competitive market, incumbent providers will have market incentives to improve the efficiency of their operations and improve the quality of their service.

Approving Applicant's application is also in the public interest because in many of its proposed markets it may be the first operational facilities-based competitor to the incumbent LEC.

2.13.1 Credit for Service Interruptions

A credit allowance will be made when an interruption in service occurs. An interruption in service is considered to exist when the local service quality deteriorates to such an extent that the customer cannot make local calls or cannot receive local calls or cannot use the service for voice grade communications because of cross talk, static or other transmission problem. An interruption period begins when the Customer reports a circuit, service or facility to be interrupted and releases it for testing.

2.13.1.1 The Company must restore service: within sixteen (16) hours after the report of the outage if the customer notifies the telephone company that the service outage creates an emergency; or

2.13.1.2 within 24 hours after the report of the outage if no emergency exists.

2.13.1.3 Outages reported between noon on Saturday and 6:00 p.m. on the following Sunday must be restored within forty-eight (48) hours or by 6:00 p.m. on the following Monday, whichever is sooner.

2.13.1.3 If the Company does not restore service within the times required by this paragraph, the Company will credit the customer's account for an amount equal to the monthly rate for one (1) month of basic local exchange service.

2.13.2 Limitations on Allowances

No credit allowance will be made for:

2.13.2.1 interruptions due to the negligence of the Customer, or noncompliance with, or acts of omission regarding the provisions of this price list by the Customer, authorized user or joint user;

2.13.2.2 interruptions of service during any period in which the Company is not given full and free access to its facilities and equipment for the purpose of investigating and correcting interruptions;

2.13.2.3 interruptions of service during a period when the Customer has released service to the Company for maintenance purposes or for implementation of a Customer order for a change in service arrangements; or Within ten days of receiving this notice, the Customer must take this corrective action and notify the Company of the action taken. If the Customer fails to do this, the Company may take whatever additional action is deemed necessary, including the suspension of service, to protect its facilities, equipment and personnel from harm.
