Dear Ms. Jewel,

On May 3, 2016 Morning View Water Co. received a call from our lawyer, Rob Harris informing us that although he had secured our water rights for properties served by Morning View Water Co several years ago, there is now a new threat. There is a new law suit that targets our subdivision for an extreme limitation of water. It states that homes could use potable water only and not be able to water lawns. This is happening right after the $530,000 installation of the new well.

Rob Harris advised that we join a local mitigation group to fight for our water rights. To date we have paid $936.00 to join the group and we will have a yearly continuing fee of $400. We have paid our attorney $164.00 and will continue to have bills such the $82.00 we just paid. for his services as he keeps us abreast issues and developments and fights for our water rights.

We are requesting that these new ongoing expenses be included for the commission's consideration in determining the rate for Morning View Water Company's customers. We project the $400.00 fee plus about $300.00 in on going lawyer fees each year. Thank you for your consideration.

Yours Truly,

Nolan Gneiting, President
Morning View Water Co.
