Complaint_description:

United Water is talking about raising their rates again.

This is criminal. As it is during the summer months our bills are not less than $350 as it is and that is using some irrigation water.

We usually have a garden that I supply alot of families that are struggling to make ends meet that are the working class, and some to the foodbanks. Rather than having a new house. As it is families are barely making it with kids and supporting a home.

During the summer months we are already getting hit hard, with electicity and water.

Do you realize how much, just 1 tree, let alone a yard, provides for cleaning the pollution in our atmosphere for everyone.

Sincerely,
DF Woffington

Comment_description: I hope that you do not grant the United Water an increase. They were given the ability to increase the rates in the summer time a few years ago and this was a substantial burden on me as a homeowner, I conserve water but it still would be over $100 per bill in the summer. If you want Idaho to look like the desert in Nevada, and every body have dirt yards then go ahead. Also, this is a real burden for the elderly that have to maintain their properties on fixed incomes. First, Idaho Power gets increased then Intermountain Gas more than double their rates, along with the Sewer and Trash. Social Security benefits did not go up that much for these people so how are they suppose to live? Now the water goes up.

If it wasn't bought by a foreign company, maybe the rates wouldn't be so high?

What about all the fields in Boise that are now 20-30 homes that are consuming more water and giving them income. Doesn't that help with the infrastructure? I feel this way about all the increases, including the increase in property taxes are unfair because of the growth should add to their revenues enough.

Comment_description: I recieved a letter from United Water about an application to increase rates.

This letter gave a web site to go to, to be able to make comments. The following web site: www.puc.state.id.us/scripts/polyform.dll/ipuc, is no where to be found. Can't make a negative comment if site not available. Maybe not available on purpose.

My comment:

If rate increases are needed to meet costs of expansion, which include adding distribution facilities and treatment, let the new construction that is causing this need foot the bill. It has long been the burden of old customers to foot the bill to make services available to new customers, not just in this instance, but in alot of other areas. Let the developers pay their way!

Thank you.

Comment_description: Responding to a letter received February 13, 2006; Notice for Application to Increase Rates, United Water Idaho.

I oppose any rate increase with United Water Idaho.

Please review the management practices within United Water and determine what is being done to reduce their costs. It is vital that your determination be made, first and foremost, on reductions to their expenses.

Thank you for your consideration.
