Thank you for your consideration of public comments regarding United Water Idaho's rate increase request. I am hereby submitting my comment in opposition to the proposed increase. One of UWI's main reasons cited for the increase is to compensate for decreased revenues that have resulted from lower consumption. Yet every summer UWI charges us a considerably higher amount per unit of water on the grounds that consumption is so much higher in the summer months. So UWI's argument is that we must pay more when water demand increases, and we must also pay more when water demand decreases. They can't have it both ways, can they?

I am going on record to say this request is more than ludicrous. In these time of recession when people are loosing their homes, have no possibility of getting a job, scraping to make ends meet, cost of fuel, cost of food, coming winter heating bills, tax increases from the governments (city, state, federal), this is no time to ask for an increase much less 20%.

Use your head, a few % will keep you above water. Your projected Seven million + increase in profit is pure greed and this request is pathetic.

I feel that this proposed 20% increase is a absolute disgrace. We as homeowners are trying to conserve water during the heat of the summer and to save money. Instead if United Water gets their way this will add to the economic hard times that we are all going through at this time. What a slap in the face to all good paying customers.
